Dear Terry,

On behalf of the Pew Center on Global Climate Change and the Pew Center on the States, I would like to thank you for giving an excellent presentation at our October State and Regional workshop. We very much appreciated your insights, candor, and willingness to discuss your efforts to address climate change. The meeting helped this important audience understand the broad landscape of actions on climate change, and many participants commented on the valuable conversations that took place. I hope that you found the meeting similarly productive, and we welcome any opportunities to help you continue your leadership on this important issue.

Sincerely,
